
IMPLEMENTING A MRR PROJECT

After submitting the MRR request to the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia (BOR) and getting it approved, the project is ready for implementation. Implementing the project includes committing to the project by having some portion of the project under contract, hiring the necessary resources to plan and design the project, getting firm bids on the work, hiring the teams to perform the specified work, and, hopefully, bringing the project in on time and under budget. If the project can be completed with time and money to spare, the institution should quickly work on committing some portion or all of the residual funds from its MRR allocation on other approved projects.
