The Invocation was given on Wednesday, June 11, by Regent Edgar L. Rhodes.

ATTENDANCE REPORT

The Attendance Report was read on Wednesday, June 11, by Secretary Weber, who announced that A. W. "Bill" Dahlberg had asked for and been given permission to be absent on Monday, June 9, Tuesday, June 10, and Wednesday, June 11, 1997, and William B. Turner had asked for and been given permission to be absent on Tuesday, June 10, 1997.

APPROVAL OF THE MINUTES

Motion being properly made and duly seconded, the minutes of the Board of Regents' meeting held on May 13-14, 1997 were unanimously approved as distributed.
On Monday, June 9, 1997, Chairman Allgood asked for a motion to recess the regular meeting of the Board of Regents and convene the meeting for the Strategic Planning Committee as the Committee of the Whole. Motion was made and seconded. Chairman Leebern then made opening comments.

Chairman Leebern began by noting that the first two days of the June Board meeting would be working sessions for the Strategic Planning Committee Meeting as a Committee of the Whole. He reminded the Board that in May 1997, the Board approved the Capital Priorities Principles to guide the Board in making decisions on both major and minor Capital Projects. He stated that during the meeting, the Board would hear presidents of the System's institutions present their Major Capital Priorities. Then the Board would develop a five-year list prioritizing the projects to be funded as funding becomes available. He said that this presentation represented the culmination of a year of Strategic Planning in which the Board looked at demographic data, workforce needs in the state, academic programs, and enrollment management. He said the Board must use the Guiding Principles which the Board adopted to determine the Capital Projects for the future. He noted it is important to remember that the Board decided to adopt a five-year rolling process so that if unforeseen needs arise, the Board can be flexible in determining the most pressing Capital Projects. He then told the Board that the participating institutions will appear in alphabetical order with an allotted time slot.

Chairman Leebern then introduced Chancellor Portch to give a brief review of the process.

Chancellor Portch noted that the two-day "working session" of the Strategic Planning Committee, with presentations from each president making major capital requests, is an experiment. He then said that he would like to "walk through" the process he hopes will help the Regents in making their decisions. Chancellor Portch said that the goal is to accomplish a five-year rolling Major Capital Outlay plan with a final budget of approximately $500 million for all accepted projects. He noted that the addition of the new minors list should assist in keeping the budget down to that $500 million.

Chancellor Portch then noted score sheets had been given to each Regent. He reminded them that only thirty projects would be chosen and to prioritize the projects, #1 being the highest. He noted the Camden Center for Georgia Coastal Community College and the Bartow Center for Floyd College had been left out of the presentation list as outside consultants had recommended the Board create special Board policies for off-campus sites before presenting them for funding. Finally, he noted that while the data used in assessing these projects is not the most reliable, the gross estimate would give the Regents a fair estimate for comparative purposes. Chancellor Portch then asked for questions. There being no questions, Chairman Leebern introduced President Loyd from Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College to make the first presentation.

On Monday, June 9, 1997, the following presidents made presentations to the Board of Regents for their respective Major Capital Priorities:

COMMENTS
Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College

Regent Coleman asked President Loyd if there is presently any rental property that Abraham Baldwin would be willing to sacrifice for new facilities? President Loyd answered that presently, the institution has no rental property.

Regent Rhodes asked if this program would train students to go immediately upon graduation into companies such as Goldkist? President Loyd answered that Goldkist was one company which had contributed to the institution and students are being prepared to make that transition. Regent Jenkins asked when the last Major Capital project was granted at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College. President Loyd answered that it was in the early 1980's.

Albany State University

Regent Kennedy asked what amount did Albany State University receive from Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) for the Albany flood? President Shields answered that the University received $64,000,000 from FEMA.

Regent Cannestra asked where the addition to the University's library fits into the request. President Shields answered that the needs of the library are still being assessed and that a total request for that facility cannot be made until that assessment is completed.

Armstrong Atlantic State University

Regent Cannestra asked if the $5 million estimate for the renovation of the two vacated facilities is not too low. President Burnett answered that the institution felt that the cost estimates are realistic.

Regent McMillan asked if the square footage given in the request was not lower than the square footage given by the Chancellor's staff. Vice Chancellor William Chatham answered that the square footage given in President Burnett's presentation did not include dormitory space.

Regent Elson asked if the trailers on Armstrong's campus are leased. President Burnett answered that the trailers were owned by the University.

Coastal Georgia Community College

Regent Jones asked President Lord to explain again the degree programs shared between Coastal Georgia Community College and Brunswick Center. President Lord said that 544 baccalaureate degrees have been awarded since 1987. In 1997, 50% of Bachelor of Science degrees in Middle School Education and 50% of the Master's in Education finished through the Brunswick Center. In 1997, 39.58% of Bachelor of Science degrees in Early Elementary Education finished through the Brunswick Center. Regent Jones then asked to what did President Lord attribute the rapid growth in Camden County? President Lord answered that she attributes the growth to the Kings Bay Submarine Base.

Augusta State University

Regent Coleman asked if the old buildings would be demolished. President Bloodworth answered that they would.
Regent Jenkins asked if there is enough existing land to accommodate the old buildings as well as the new buildings until the old facilities can be demolished. President Bloodworth answered that while space will be scarce, there is enough existing space to accommodate the new facilities.

Regent White asked how much additional square footage would be gained. President Bloodworth answered approximately 40,000 square feet.

Regent Rhodes asked if there is to be one or two new buildings. President Bloodworth answered that two have been requested.

Regent Jenkins asked where the science classes are presently being held. President Bloodworth answered that currently science classes are still being held in the old science facility or wherever class space is available. Regent Jenkins then asked when would construction begin. President Bloodworth answered that construction would begin in fall of 1997. Regent Jenkins then asked if Augusta State University currently has any facilities off-campus. President Bloodworth answered that only one facility is located away from the main campus and that is the physical education building located two miles away from the main campus.

Regent Jones asked if the cost of demolition was included in the requested funds of phase I and phase 2. President Bloodworth answered yes.

Regent Elson asked how much is the new science building estimated to cost. President Bloodworth answered $12.5 million.

Regent Hunt asked if the institution presently has the funds to mitigate the asbestos problem. President Bloodworth answered yes.

Clayton College & State University

Regent White asked once the old administration building is torn down, how much of the new building will accommodate administrative staff. President Skinner answered approximately 21% of the new building's occupants would be administrative staff.

Columbus State University

Regent Jenkins asked if the new facility would be located on a campus site and when the University last had a major capital project funded. President Brown answered that the new facility would be built on a campus site and the last major capital project funded was in 1988. Regent Jenkins then asked if all faculty will be consolidated in the new facility. President Brown answered yes.
Darton College

Regent Leebern asked if the institution was able to schedule the use of the campus pool for other institutions such as the three local high schools. President Sireno answered yes, the other groups which use the pool are scheduled in the morning and Darton College students use it in the afternoon.

DeKalb College

Regent Baranco asked what kind of synergy exists between the four DeKalb campuses' libraries. President Belcher answered that the synergy was very close but that the libraries still cannot meet current enrollment needs.

Regent Jenkins asked about the distance between DeKalb campuses. President Belcher answered that there is approximately 19 miles between Gwinnett campus and North Campus, and approximately 13 miles between North campus and Central campus.

Regent Cannestra asked about the current enrollment at North campus. President Belcher answered that enrollment for North campus is approximately 5,500. Regent Cannestra then asked if there had been any discussion of splitting the North campus off into an independent campus. President Belcher said that there had been discussion along those lines before she came to DeKalb.

Floyd College

Regent Rhodes asked if any portion of the Bartow County facility is rented. President Cundiff answered that 11,000 square feet is rented in Cartersville.

Regent Jones asked if fiber optics aid the connection between campuses and the Floyd College Library. President Cundiff answered that fiber optics have allowed increased use of the library but at the same time has created more traffic in the facility.

Regent Jenkins asked what programs were located at the downtown Rome location. President Cundiff answered that all Floyd College's medical programs are located in the Rome facility.

Fort Valley State College

Regent Baranco asked about the location of the proposed gymnasium. President Prater answered that the new gymnasium would be near the lake, on the waterfront.
Georgia College & State University

Regent Kennedy asked when the condemned buildings were built. President Hemphill answered at the turn of the century. He noted that they are currently vacant.

Gainesville College

Regent Cannestra asked if the projected 5% growth for Gainesville College is too modest. President Fuller said she thought 5% may be too modest.

Regent Jones asked if the requested funds include the cost of demolition. President Fuller answered that it does.

On Tuesday, June 10, 1997, Chairman Allgood asked for a motion to recess the regular meeting of the Board of Regents and convene the meeting for the Strategic Planning Committee as the Committee of the Whole. Motion was made and seconded. Chairman Leebern then made opening comments.

Chairman Leebern began by noting that this meeting is the second day of a working session of the Strategic Planning Committee Meeting as a Committee of the Whole and will follow the same format as the previous day. He then asked for questions. There being no questions, he introduced President Jerry Williamson, who made the first presentation.

Georgia Southern

Regent Cannestra noted that President Henry's presentation appeared more persuasive on the side of the new nursing facility than it did on the new fine arts facility. President Henry answered that while the institution very much needed the new fine arts facility, it is currently making due with an old science lab. He stressed that both were needed.

Regent Allgood asked President Henry if Georgia Southern currently had a Facilities Master Plan and what the cost was. President Henry answered that Georgia Southern currently has a Facilities Master Plan and the cost was $50,000. Regent Allgood then asked what buildings are currently under construction. President Henry answered a residence hall, the recreation/activity building, and the wildlife education center; the continuing education center would be under construction soon.

Georgia Southwestern State University

Regent White asked how the new recreation center is to be utilized. President Hanes answered that 34,000 square feet of the facility will comprise the field house, the gymnasium and will serve primarily athletic functions. 22,000 square feet will be instructional and student activities.

Regent Jones asked if Georgia Southwestern still has its Asian Studies program. President Hanes answered yes. Regent Jones asked how Georgia Southwestern University recruits for its Asian Studies program. President Hanes answered that the Director of the Asian Studies program, Dr. Don Lee, travels to Korea and Japan and other parts of Asia and recruits students to the program.

Regent Cannestra asked if Georgia Southwestern had looked at the cost of renovating the Wheatly building rather than building a new facility. President Hanes said that the institution expected to study those two options in detail. Regent Cannestra noted that it would be difficult to bring new technology into such an antiquated building.

Georgia State University

Chancellor Portch said before Georgia State University made its presentation that he wished to make note of an article which appeared in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution which criticized the proposed site for a Georgia State University acquisition. He stated that the University System places need over cost and location and that should be kept in mind by Regents as they make their decisions on the major capital projects.

Regent Baranco asked what the cost differential was between the acquisition of an existing structure and building a new facility. President Patton answered that the institution first looked at what was available and nearest to the main campus. He said two other important considerations were cost and protecting the institution's investments.

Regent Allgood, referring to Georgia State's second priority (a laboratory building, property acquisition and design), asked what is currently on that property. President Patton answered that currently it is a parking garage and walk-up MacDonalds restaurant. Regent Allgood then asked if Georgia State would be able to get private funding to help with the acquisition. President Patton answered yes.

Regent Kennedy commended President Patton for his initiative in raising funds.

Kennesaw State University

Regent Jones asked how much the University is renting in square feet. Mr. Earle Holley, Vice President of Business and Finance, answered that Kennesaw State currently rents four temporary buildings (trailers) on campus, each 6-8,000 square feet at approximately $9.00 per square foot. He said Kennesaw is renting 50,000 square feet off-campus. Regent Jones asked what program occupied the off-campus space. Mr. Holley answered the Nursing program but that program will be moved back on campus in fall of 1998.

Regent Baranco said she was not clear as to which project, the convocation building or the public affairs building, had been given priority by Kennesaw State. President Siegel said that both are needed very badly and it is nearly impossible for her to choose the importance of one over the other.

Regent Baranco then recognized President Siegel as the recipient of the Governor's Council on Women's 1997 Georgia Woman of the Year.

Macon College

Regent Jones asked what Macon College's highest enrollment to date is. President Hyatt answered that the highest enrollment for Macon College was 5,088 in 1992. Regent Jones then asked President Hyatt what was the basis for his growth projections. President Hyatt answered that projected growth is based on a 20-year average growth, added undergraduate programs, and the addition of nearby private student housing.

Regent Allgood then thanked President Hyatt for his service to Macon College and the University System of Georgia and wished him well in his new position with Rotary International.

Medical College of Georgia
Regent Baranco asked if the Medical College of Georgia should not rethink its practice of offering an undergraduate nursing program. President Tedesco noted that the Medical College of Georgia had taken the undergraduate nursing program from the University of Georgia upon request of the Regents. He also noted that MCG serves a great many nursing students, clearly still meeting a need. Regent Baranco then asked what of the possibility that ten years in the future there is no longer such a demand. Would the new facility still be justified? President Tedesco answered that the Board of Regents defined a need for MCG to provide classes for other institutions such as Gordon College through distance learning and that such programs which will be utilized in this facility would save the state and the System a great deal of money.

North Georgia College & State University

Regent Jenkins commended President Day for the good work he has done as Interim President.

Regent White asked what percentage of the total enrollment of students will participate in the new facility? President Day answered that approximately 10% of currently enrolled students will benefit from the new facility.

Savannah State University

Regent Baranco said that she was under the impression that co-ed dormitories were no longer the trend. President Wolfe answered that co-ed dormitories are still the trend and that in the new facility, women would occupy one floor or wing and men would occupy another.
Southern Polytechnic State University

Regent Baranco asked about the present enrollment projections for the new building. President Cheshier answered that students do not enter the Architectural program as freshmen out of high school. The program is a five-year program and students must apply separately for the architectural program. Approximately 120 will be admitted; current enrollment is 300. Regent Baranco asked President Cheshier what he felt were Southern Tech's contributions to Georgia's economic development. He noted that the Georgia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) asked Southern Polytechnic to start this program in response to a need for local architectural graduates. He said that most of Southern Polytechnic's graduates aspire to start their own firms. They have contributed greatly to the community, designing the Marietta Square and donating time to Habitat for Humanity.

Regent Cannestra noted that ten years previously he and others were afraid that the quality of Southern Polytechnic had deteriorated. He said that President Cheshier has done an outstanding job of raising the standards at Southern Polytechnic and that Southern Polytechnic's graduates are as qualified as any graduates in the country. He also noted that President Cheshier had revitalized the institution's foundation and thanked him for all his work.

President Cheshier thanked the Board for all its support.

University of Georgia

Regent Baranco asked if the proposed learning center is a library. President Knapp answered that in the traditional sense it is both a classroom and a library and will alleviate the immediate need to expand the main library at the University of Georgia. He noted the model of the Johnson Center at George Mason University in Northern Virginia which UGA studied in developing its own plan.

Regent Leebern thanked President Knapp for his years of service to the University of Georgia and the University System of Georgia.

Valdosta State University

Chancellor Portch explained that the "Regents' burden factor" to which President Bailey referred were project soft costs.
At the end of presentations by the 27 institution presidents, Chancellor Portch noted that, when he and staff met with the presidents, they stressed the importance of being on time and on task. He commended the presidents for achieving that goal. He then recognized Vice Chancellor William Chatham and his staff for their hard work in putting the presentations by presidents together and for their successful work with all the presidents. Chancellor Portch then thanked the Central Office technical staff for assisting in all the presentations. He said that he hoped that the "experimental" process worked and noted that now he felt that all the Regents could speak with authority on the major capital projects. He then instructed the Regents on how to complete their ranking of the projects. He reminded them that it would take a majority of Regents' votes to get a project on the list. He said the Regents' choices would be compiled and presented on Wednesday, June 11. Finally, the Regents' choice of thirty ranked capital projects will be ratified in July.

Chairman Allgood earlier in the day recognized Senator Jack Hill, Chair of the Senate Education Committee, for his great contributions on behalf of the University System. Chairman Allgood called Senator Hill a great friend of the System.

Chancellor Portch then introduced Christina Cheakalos, the new higher education reporter for the Atlanta Journal Constitution.

Committee on Real Estate & Facilities

The Committee on Real Estate and Facilities met on Wednesday, June 11, 1997, in the Board Room, Room 7007. Present were Chair J. Tom Coleman, Jr., Vice Chair William B. Turner, and Regents Thomas F. Allgood Sr., Kenneth W. Cannestra, S. William Clark, Jr., Edgar L. Jenkins, Donald M. Leebern, Jr., and Glenn S. White. The Committee recommended full approval on two items which were held over from the May Board meeting. Motion made and seconded, the Board unanimously approved and authorized the following:

1. Rental Agreement, Middle Georgia Technology Development Center, Macon College

   Approved: The Board authorized the execution of a rental agreement between Warner Robins Development Authority, Landlord, and Board of Regents, Tenant, covering 11,192 square feet of classroom and office space located in the Middle Georgia Technology Development Center, 151 Osigian Boulevard, Warner Robins, Georgia, for the period of July 1, 1997, through June 30, 1998, at a monthly rental of $14,540.17 ($174,482 per year/$14.65 per square foot per year), with option to renew for three consecutive one year periods beginning July 1, 1998, for use as Macon College's Warner Robins Campus.

   Also Approved: The terms of this rental agreement to be subject to review and legal approval of the office of the Attorney General.

   The Board, on behalf of Macon College, has rented this property since September 1992. The last option period under the rental agreement has been exercised and a renewal of the agreement is needed.

   The rental rate from the previous agreement has been increased 3% to cover operating expenses.

   The Middle Georgia Technology Development Center is a regional technology, business and educational center located in Warner Robins, Georgia. The Center includes classrooms and offices for Macon College.

   Operating costs for this rental agreement are included in lease rate.

   Additional Research

   In the late 1980's the local County legislative delegation desired to replicate the Advanced Technology Development Center (ATDC) in Warner Robins in support of the defense industry. The Board at the time indicated that if a facility were constructed for this purpose that an ATDC facility would be established. The legislative delegation worked with the local development authority and community. The community desired to have an educational mission coincident with the ATDC. The development authority and the Board of Regents agreed that Macon College would establish a center in the facility in addition to the ATDC.

Macon College is offering 51 classes (24 day classes and 27 evening classes) with a headcount enrollment of 654 for spring quarter at the Middle Georgia Technology Development Center. This Center is approximately 20 minutes driving time from the Macon College campus. This facility includes six classrooms, a GSAMS facility, a science laboratory, a computer laboratory and administrative space. In addition, the Center is utilized extensively for continuing education needs. This Center primarily serves the non-military population of Warner Robins and Houston County. Lower division courses in accounting, biology, business, systems, economics, English, history, mathematics, political science, psychology, and sociology are offered.

The rental rate of $14.65 per square foot per year includes rent, utilities, maintenance, property insurance, trash removal, repairs, taxes and pest control. This rent is estimated to be comprised as follows: $10.00 for triple net rent, $1.50 for utilities, and $3.15 for operating expenses. This triple net rent is comparable to market rent in the Warner Robins area for similar facilities.

The Middle Georgia Technology Development Center is a combined facility with Georgia Institute of Technology Advanced Technology Development Center (ATDC) and Georgia Tech Research Institute (GTRI). GTRI occupies 1,543 square feet at a rent of $14.69 which includes rent, utilities, maintenance, property insurance, trash removal, repairs, taxes and pest control. ATDC occupies 8,635 square feet at a rent of $6.52 with a provision of a pass-through of rent charged to incubator companies. The rental agreement started in July 1992. The last option on this agreement will end in June 1998. ATDC currently has seven incubator companies in this facility that employ 36 people and generate over $6.6 million in annual sales. The economic impact of this facility is estimated to be 167 jobs created and economic activity of over $9.7 million. Since 1992, four companies have successfully grown out of the Warner Robins ATDC facility.

Macon College is also a participant in a collaborative Center on the Robins Air Force Base. This Center has operated since 1970 and currently includes Macon College, Georgia Military College, Mercer University and Embry Riddle. The Center operates in the Personnel Services Building which was built in 1982 to serve the instructional needs of the base. The Center utilizes classroom space, computer laboratory space, administrative support space and has available the base library in the same building, at no cost to the University System. Macon College is offering 17 classes with a total headcount enrollment of 271 at this Center. The Center serves military and civilian employees of the base and the Warner Robins community (approximately 40% of current enrollment) as space permits. This Center has continued to be a significant factor in the review by the Base Realignment and Closure Committee (BRAC) of the availability of quality education. This is currently under review again. The University System offers courses at the lower division at Macon College with an average headcount enrollment of 271 and upper division leading to a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree at Georgia College & State University with an average headcount enrollment of 138. In addition, Georgia College & State University offers the Master of Business Administration and Master of Public Administration programs through the Graduate Center with a headcount enrollment of 156. The Logistics Education Center operated by Georgia College & State University offers the Bachelor of Science in Logistics Systems and the Master of Science in Administration/Logistics Management with a headcount enrollment of 85.
2. Rental Agreement, Fort Valley State University

Approved: The Board authorized the execution of a rental agreement between Arkwright Road Associates, Landlord, and Board of Regents, Tenant, covering 4,360 square feet of classroom/office space located in the CIGNA Building, 3920 Arkwright Road, Macon, Georgia, for the period beginning July 1, 1997, and ending June 30, 1998, at a monthly rental of $6,900 ($82,800 per year/$18.99 per square foot per year), with option to renew for four (4) consecutive one year periods beginning July 1, 1998, for use of Fort Valley State University.

Also Approved: The terms of this rental agreement to be subject to review and legal approval of the office of the Attorney General.

The Board, on behalf of Fort Valley State University, has rented this property since July 1991. The last option period under the rental agreement has been exercised and a renewal of the agreement is needed. The rental for the most recent period was $6,540 per month. This rental agreement represents a 6% increase over the previous period, as an increase in base rent.

The classroom/office space is located in an office building and will be used to house the external degree programs for Fort Valley State University in the Macon area. This includes Graduate Programs through the School of Education, Graduate and Special Academy Programs and Undergraduate courses in Business and Economics.

Operating costs for this rental agreement are included in the rental rate.

At the Macon site, Fort Valley State University offers Masters Degrees in Early Childhood Education, Middle Grades Education, Mental Health Counseling, Guidance and Counseling, and Rehabilitative Counseling. In addition, a Specialist Degree in Guidance and Counseling and upper division programs in Business and Economics are offered. Current headcount enrollment is 472.

This Center is approximately 20 minutes driving time from Macon College which is the closest campus. The rental rate of $18.99 per square foot per year includes rent and pro-data operating expenses. This rent is $13.00 with an additional $5.99 attributable to operating expenses. An annual accounting of operating expenses is provided by the landlord. This facility provides 24-hour security and covered parking and is one of two class A office buildings in the Macon area. The other is the Equitable Building. Both facilities have current average short term base rates of approximately $13.00. The rent is comparable to market rent in the Macon area for similar facilities.

Georgia College & State University is also a collaborative participant at this Center with a headcount enrollment of 938. Bachelors Degrees are offered in Management, Accounting, Nursing, Criminal Justice, Early Childhood Education, Middle Grades Education, and Legal Assistance Studies. Master Degrees are offered in Management Information Systems, Business Administration, Nursing, Administration/Supervision, Special Education, Library Media, and Public Administration. Specialist Degrees are offered in Education Administration and Supervision. Additionally, Certificate Programs are offered in Data Processing Management, Medical Transcription, Paralegal Education, Production and Inventory, Child Development Associate, and Credit and Collections.
Georgia College & State University also has a Technology Training Center located at this Center. This is one of three such Centers operated by the University System in the state to provide technological education to the State Department of Education and has provided training for over 11,500 participants, including administrators, teachers, technology specialists, and support personnel in the past year.

The Board of Regents Office of Instructional and Information Technology has also trained over 620 University System faculty and staff during the past year at this Center. Additionally, numerous public and private groups have held conferences at this facility during the past year.
On Wednesday, June 11, 1997, Chairman Allgood asked for a motion to recess the regular meeting of the Board of Regents and convene the meeting for the Strategic Planning Committee as the Committee of the Whole. Motion was made and seconded. Chairman Leebern then made opening comments.

Chairman Leebern said that based on the presentations and information from the institutions, the Board's discussions and directions to the Chancellor's staff, Chancellor Portch will present the Major Capital Priorities for the next five years in the University System.

Chancellor Portch began with the pay-back projects of which there were only two. Georgia Institute of Technology was ranked first followed by Valdosta State. He noted that the final list which will be approved by the Board in September will include major, minor, and pay-back projects which will either include both Georgia Tech's and Valdosta's pay-back projects or, if necessary, only one, Georgia Tech's. He noted that there were two ties; items 12, North Georgia College & State University's Health and Natural Science Building or University of Georgia's Student Learning Center (classroom) and items 17, Coastal Georgia Community College's Joint Use Facility or Georgia College & State University's Russell Library & Information Technology Center. A vote by secret ballot was taken and both ties broken. He then announced the 27 projects chosen by the Board ranked by order of priority.

Chairman Leebern thanked the Chancellor and his staff for all their hard work and thanked the institutions. He then asked for a motion to adopt the list. Motion was made and seconded and the floor was opened for discussion and questions.

Chairman Leebern thanked the Board for its endurance over the three-day meeting period and for its willingness to commit time and energy to such an important process. He then noted that the list represents the culmination of the work of many people: the Strategic Planning Council of Presidents; the Chancellor's staff; and members of the Board. He noted that it was a great achievement. He asked for a motion to approve the Major Capital Outlay Priorities List. Regent Coleman made the motion to approve and was seconded by Regent Baranco. The Major Capital Outlay Priorities List was unanimously approved.

Vice-Chairman-elect Edgar L. Jenkins thanked Regent Kenneth W. Cannestra for his nomination and for the support of the Board. He said he especially wanted to thank Chairman Allgood for his service for the past year and each of the past Chairpersons for their service. He noted that each Board member has served in various capacities on different boards, but he has never served on a board which he felt was more important or had a greater responsibility than the Board of Regents. He said, too, that he had never served with a board that was more earnest in its attempt to do the best for the state. He then said that he would lend all of his support to the new Chairman and hopes that years from now this particular Board will have made a difference.

COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND BUSINESS MEETING AS THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Chairman Allgood asked for a motion to recess the regular meeting of the Board of Regents and convene the Committee of the Whole. Motion made and seconded, Chairman Cannestra convened the Committee on Finance and Business as the Committee of the Whole. Chairman Cannestra stated that the committee was presenting for the approval of the Board the Institutional Operating and Capital Budgets for Fiscal Year 1997-1998. He asked Sr. Vice Chancellor Lindsay Desrochers to present information on the item.

Dr. Desrochers stated that the budget the Board was being asked to approve today was based upon the allocations endorsed at the April Board meeting. She then introduced Associate Vice Chancellor William Bowes to provide an overview of the budget process and recommendations.

Mr. Bowes thanked the University System presidents, their chief business officers and budget staff for meeting budget deadlines and providing all information needed to complete the recommendations. He then began with a review of the budget process, beginning with the Board action in September, 1996 to adopt a University System budget for FY 1998. The total recommended budget of $3.65 billion covered all fund sources and activities within the University System of Georgia and reflected the systemwide priorities, redirection guidelines and salary policies of the Board. Mr. Bowes noted that the salary increases proposed by the USG institutions were distributed between zero and ten percent with the average around six percent as required by the policy. He described the capital budget recommendations stating that, with the inclusion of $151 million in state bonded projects, the total amount available for capital facilities construction and renovation in the System exceeded $300 million. Mr. Bowes closed by assuring the Board that the staff had carefully reviewed the budgets to ensure they complied with the allocations approved in April.

1. Approval of Institutional Operating and Capital Budgets for Fiscal year 1997-98.

Approved: The Board approved the institutional operating and capital budgets for those institutions appearing in Appendix I. These budgets have been thoroughly reviewed by the Capital Resources Staff for compliance with Board of Regents' policies and directives and are recommended for final approval by the Board.

Background: The FY 1997-98 operating and capital budget recommendations represent the culmination of a process begun in late January 1997. Beginning that month and continuing into February, senior central office staff from capital resources and academic affairs met with presidents and senior administrators from each college and university in the system. The meetings afforded an opportunity to review and discuss institutional requests for new funds within the context of the Board of Regents' overall redirection strategy and systemwide priorities. Discussions focused also on institutional enrollments, technology goals and other issues related to Board strategic initiatives. Using information gathered from the institutions, allocation recommendations for state appropriations were developed which provide for merit-based salary increases, workload changes and new strategic initiatives. They also target $25 million of redirection proposals concerning instructional effectiveness, economic development, technological innovation, productivity, high priority academic areas and collaborative projects. These recommendations were approved by the Board in April 1997 and then forwarded to University System institutions to be incorporated into formal budget requests, reflecting the state appropriations and all other revenue sources.

The recommendations include a breakdown of budgets by fund source (e.g., educational and general, capital, auxiliary enterprises and student activity) and a more detailed description of educational and general budgets by revenue source and application (personal services, operating expenses and equipment). The capital budget recommendation indicates sources of funds and type of project. Capital projects which are to be supported by institutional funds will be subject to appropriate review as required by policy.
